WRITER BINGO

A fun game to get to know the writers in your group. Print out bingo cards and read out the following questions. The writers check off anything they can answer with a 'yes.' The winner is the first writer to complete a horizontal or vertical row of four.

Here are the questions:

Have you tried 'Save the Cat'?

Have you typed 'THE END'?

Have you suffered from writer's block?

Have you had a story idea in the shower?

Have you worried about word count?

Have you written a synopsis?

Have you heard of NaNoWriMo?

Have you imagined a world unlike our own?

Have you researched a murder?

Have you based a character on someone you know?

Have you found story inspiration from the news?

Have you received a rejection letter?

Have you fallen in love with one of your own characters?

Have you been published or produced?

Have you ever decided to change a character name?

Have you written a scene involving an animal?
